Former TMC Mayor Jun de Sagun 7th District Board Member Ping Remulla

Inianunsiyo ng Commission on Elections (Comelec) na magsisimula sa Pebrero 25, 2023 ang eleksiyon para piliin ang bagong kongresista na kakatawan sa nabakanteng 7th Legislative District of Cavite.

Nabakante ang posisyon nang magbitiw si Congressman Jesus Crispin 'Boying' Remulla matapos tanggapin ang alok ni Presidente Bongbong Marcos na maging Justice Secretary.

Pinili ng Comelec si Commissioner Marlon Casquejo na siyang mangasiwa sa gagawing espesyal na halalan na may apat na aspiranteng naghain ng kani-kanilang certificate of candidacy.

Sila ay kapwa independyenteng sina Jose Angelito Domingo

Ayon sa pulso ng mga botante, magiging mahigpit ang labanan nina Bokal Ping at dating Mayor De Sagun sa takbuhan ito sa pagka-kongresista ng 7th District -- na binubuo ng mga bayan ng Amadeo, Tanza, Indang at Trece Martires City.

Bagaman at hindi inaalas ang 'milagrong' pumili ng bagong mukha sa politika mula kina Aguinaldo at Angelo.

May kabuuang 365,184 rehistradong botante mula sa 116 barangay ng 7th District, ayon kay Comelec executive director Atty. Teopisto Elnas.

Hindi manual ang pagboto at pabilang ng mga boto, sabi ni Elnas at ang gagamitin ay vote counting machines (VCMs).

Parameters for exploration of oil, other resources made clearer by SC verdict

The decision of the Supreme Court to void the 2005 Tripartite Agreement for Joint Marine Seismic Undertaking (JMSU) among China National Offshore Oil Corporation (CNOOC), Vietnam Oil and Gas Corporation (PETROVIETNAM), and the Philippine National Oil Company (PNOC) is a welcome development.

The high tribunal ruled the JMSU unconstitutional "for allowing wholly-owned foreign corporations to participate in the exploration of the country's natural resources without observing the safeguards provided for in Section 2, Article XII of the 1987 Constitution." The particular section mandates that "the exploration, development, and utilization of natural resources shall be under the full control and supervision of the State."

The decision comes at a time when the country, which relies heavily on imported fuel, is looking into exploring alternative sources of energy to cushion the impact of supply shocks. And among those being eyed as sources of alternative fuel are possible oil and gas deposits in the vast West Philippine Sea.

With the Supreme Court decision, the parameters set by the 1987 Constitution have become clearer. Any move to explore, develop, and utilize the country's natural resources—whether at the West Philippine Sea or any area under the country's jurisdiction—will now be guided by the Constitution and the High Court's ruling on the JMSU.

The verdict stemmed from the petition filed in 2008 by then Bayan Muna Party-List Reps. Neri Colmenares, Satur C. Ocampo and Teodoro A. Casino, challenging the JMSU. They asserted that the tripartite agreement "was illegal as it allowed foreign corporations wholly-owned by China and

National government borrowings for Jan-Nov dip to P2.1T

Vietnam to undertake large scale exploration of the country's petroleum resources, in violation of the constitutional provision which reserves the exploration, development, and utilization of natural resources to Filipino citizens, or corporations or associations at least 60 percent of whose capital is owned by such citizens."

Responding to the petition, the government then argued that Section 2, Article XII of the Constitution is not applicable to the JMSU as the provision deals with "exploration, development, and utilization" of natural resources. It explained that the JMSU only covers pre-exploration activities.

But the Supreme Court was unconvinced by the government's assertion. In resolving the issue, the High Tribunal ruled that the JMSU "involves the exploration of the country's natural resources, particularly petroleum."

The SC said, "it is clear that the JMSU was executed for the purpose of determining if petroleum exists in the Agreement Area." It cited the "fifth whereas" clause of the JMSU, which states that the "Parties expressed desire to engage in a joint research of petroleum resource potential of a certain area of the South China Sea as a pre-exploration activity."

"That the Parties designated the joint research as a 'pre-exploration activity' is of no moment. Such designation does not detract from the fact that the intent and aim of the agreement is to discover petroleum which is tantamount to exploration," the Supreme Court said in a decision written by Associate Justice Samuel H. Gaerlan.

With the verdict, wholly-owned foreign entities cannot explore, develop, and utilize the country's natural resources. It is reserved for Filipinos or entities 60 percent-owned by the country's citizens.

DA to boost onion production in Calabarzon amid high prices

CALAMBA CITY, Laguna — As onion prices remain steep, the Department of Agriculture (DA) in Calabarzon said it will ramp up local production of the high value crop in the region.

Regional Executive Director Milo delos Reyes said on Wednesday that the DA continues to distribute agricultural inputs to farmers to strengthen their production and boost the supply of the crop.

"Hindi natin pinapabayaan ang mga magsasaka natin ng sibuyas dito sa rehiyon kahit ilan lamang sila dahil patuloy tayo na nagbibigay ng binhi at abono. Bagkus, patuloy nating palalakasin ang produksyon ng ating lokal na sibuyas sa mga susunod na mga buwan," delos Reyes said.

Calabarzon region is considered an onion consumer compared to the onion-producing regions like Ilocos, Cagayan Valley, Central Luzon and Mimaropa.

According to DA IV-A, only 70 hectares of farmlands are planted to onions in CALABARZON resulting in a higher demand of the crop due to a lower amount of supply.

"In terms of demand, syempre apektado din tayo with the same reason na hindi malaki ang produksyon natin ng sibuyas," delos Reyes added.

Prices of onion in the region fetch at P500 per kilo for red onions while white onions go from P500-550 a kilo.

President Ferdinand Marcos Jr., concurrent DA Secretary, has shored up the Kadiwa markets nationwide to provide cheaper agricultural goods to consumers and provide a direct market for the farmers to sell their harvests.

In support of the program, the DA IV-A has been rolling out Kadiwa centers throughout the region where the public can also buy onions at lower prices.

"Patuloy din tayong

nagsasagawa ng Kadiwa sa iba't-ibang panig ng rehiyon and even sa Metro

Manila upang direktang maghatid sa mamimili ang mga produktong ani ng ating mga magsasaka," Delos Reyes added. (CH/PIA-Laguna)

NTC warns public against SIM Registration scams

The National Telecommunications Commission (NTC) warned the public about scammers online that solicit fees for Subscriber Identity Module (SIM) card registration assistance.

In a public advisory posted on NTC's website, the commission reiterated that subscribers should be extra cautious and not engage with individuals asking for money in exchange for their assistance in SIM card registration.

"Hindi inirerekomenda ng National Telecommunications Commission ang naglabasan sa social media na alok ng mga pribadong indibidwal ng pagtulong sa pagpapa-rehistro ng inyong SIM. Ang pagrehistro ng SIM ay libre at walang bayad. Magingat at huwag maniwala sa mga taong hindi kakilala na nag-aalok ng tulong sa inyong pagpaparehistro, may bayad man o wala", NTC said.

Recently, NTC led a text blast to inform the public regarding the matter.

Pursuant to SEC. 6 of the SIM Registration Act, it is stated that the registration required under this Act shall be implemented at no cost to the end-users. Public Telecommunication Entities (PTEs) shall ensure that the end-users' data are secured and protected at all times.

DOST technologies at par with global technologies in the Consumer Electronics Show and Silicon Valley, USA.

The Department of Science and Technology (DOST), in an effort to strengthen emerging technologies such as Semiconductor Manufacturing Services (SMS), Artificial Intelligence, Robotics, and Space Technology industry in the Philippines, presented engagement opportunities to scientists during the Consumer Electronics Show (CES 2023) in Las Vegas, Nevada, USA and Business Mission in Silicon Valley, San Francisco, California, USA from January 5-11, 2023.

CES is the most influential technology event in the world — the proving ground for breakthrough technologies and global innovators. This year, CES 2023 highlighted technologies on sustainability, digital health, metaverse, electric vehicles, transportation, and mobility from over 4,000 exhibitors thereby providing various insights and possibilities for the Philippines to utilize market intelligence and benchmarking.

The Philippine delegation, composed of the DOST, the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI), Department of Information and Communications Technology (DICT), Philippine Economic Zone Authority (PEZA), the Semiconductor and Electronics Industries in the Philippines Foundation, Inc. (SEIPI) and the Philippine Trade and Investment Center (PTIC) sought possible partnerships with governments and key industry players through the Philippine Business Forum highlighting the country's investment-ready environment. DOST participated in one of the fora, World Electronics Forum (WEF), where DOST Undersecretary Leah J. Buendia presented technologies and programs of the Philippine government which are at par with the emerging global technologies.

Technologies observed in CES 2023 include 1)

(GOCCs) and government instrumentalities. The Director General of the PEZA is a Presidential appointee hence, only the President can appoint and assign an OIC, PEZA rules indicated. Memo 3 however, provided the exemption of GOCCs, govt. instrumentalities mandating a hold-over capacity to ensure unhampered and continuous services.

The leadership mess stemmed from the incident when then Deputy Director General Tereso Panga appointed himself as PEZA OIC without the sanction of then incumbent Director General Charito Plaza nor of the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) Secretary Alfredo Pascual.

Memo 3 provided that DTI attached agencies like the head of PEZA, could stay on, on a hold-over capacity. The self-appointed OIC Panga reportedly sought the assistance of his fraternity brother, Sec. Pascual, to issue a midnight DTI Department Order recognizing him as the OIC. He also ordered the separation from the service of the sitting DG Plaza.

To further aggravate the matter, Panga ordered the padlocking of the DG's office, the pull-out of the ODG staff and employees, including the office computers, telephone lines so communications at the ODG will stop. On that same day, Aug 3, 2022, Panga further ordered the PEZA police and the security guards to watch and prevent the entry of DG Plaza and the DG's invited media to enter the PEZA office.

Tensions and commotions occurred when DG Plaza insisted going to her office for the press conference she called but decided to transfer the venue instead at Conrad Hotel. Various media groups hence, have been recommending for the fast resolution of the PEZA leadership row which wasn't however, addressed by then Executive Secretary Victor Rodriguez.

The mess continued when Panga got another authority from Sec Pascual for him to fully exercise the powers and authority of the PEZA DG. The former was given the authority to reorganize the employees and so he started to terminate, demote, transfer to far away economic zones staff and employees identified as supporters of DG Plaza and hired new ones, promoted and occupied economic zones (EZs) preferred by his staff and supporters.

These actions of Panga as authorized by Pascual, are contrary to Civil Service laws and even OPs Memos 1,3,10 which put on a hold-over capacity staffs even contractual employees as the country is not yet off from the threats of the pandemic, inflation and world recession.

The oppressed employees have no other recourse when their appeal was not considered but go to the Civil Service Commission (CSC). They consequently withdrew their appeal at the CSC and transferred this to the Ombudsman Visayas to address all issues on administrative and alleged criminal abuse of authority.

Further, Panga is utilizing the PEZA Employees Association to support him in connivance with present and past presidents, who are his direct staff allegedly without the approval of the general membership, made public statements of support and conducted a survey, further pressuring and harassing the employees to stand by him.

Reports said that industry associations are now being dragged to give endorsements for his retention. Those employees identified with Plaza said that Panga must stop his media propaganda and instead answer the protest of the former DG now lodged with new Executive Secretary Lucas Bersamin and the Office of the Ombudsman.

Meanwhile, industries allegedly endorsing Panga vehemently denied their supposed gesture as they agreed that their organizations must play neutral in the PEZA leadership rift "as this is the power of the President only."

They claimed that former DG Plaza had "excellent balancing acts during the pandemic assisting the investors, locators, industry workers with health, medical and tax assistance and reprieves."

It was said that former DG Plaza's leadership acts that protect the health, jobs, livelihood, 100% operations of the economic zones that keep the economy afloat.

DOST Undersecretary Leah J. Buendia presented DOST's programs in 2023-2028 at the World Electronics Forum together with officials from DTI, DICT, PEZA, SEIPI and PTIC, and participants from the government and industry sectors.

SentiV from France, a scouting robot for monitoring field crops; 2) Agwa from Israel, an AI-assisted indoor home vegetable-growing device; 3) Land Evaluation Engine by satellite data and AI from Japan, an application for monitoring the lands of interest from space. Similarly, DOST Advance Science and Technology Institute (ASTI) has on-going project counterparts such as 1) Robot for Optimized and Autonomous Mission Enhancement Response (ROAMER), designed for detecting banana plantation monitoring, 2) Gul.AI, a mobile AI-powered plant growing system for optimum yield, and 3) DATOS, an AI-powered engine land feature detection from satellite images. The striking similarity in the functions between ASTI's projects and CES technologies demonstrate the relevance of its R&D activities and their potential to address society's needs.

"Similarly, as we vision to continuously be abreast with countries with cutting-edge technologies, we explored potential investment opportunities and areas for cooperation particularly with startup companies and universities in Silicon Valley," says DOST Undersecretary

Leah J. Buendia. "We also recognize the importance of having a pool of experts in achieving this vision, hence we have the commitment of continuous knowledge transfer and developing our home-grown science and engineering workforce through the Balik Scientist Program," she added.

The DOST is the lead government agency that provides central direction, leadership, and coordination of scientific and technological efforts and ensure that the results therefrom are geared and utilized in areas of maximum economic and social benefits for the people.

(KBP) Calabarzon, Ms. Lydia Bueno, President of the National Press Club of the Philippines, Mr. Nelson Santos, President, Publishers Association of the Philippines (PAPI), and Mr. Rowen R. Gelonga, Regional Director of DOST-VI.

During his talk, Secretary Solidum highlighted the DOST's efforts and initiatives that are anchored by four thematic areas: Wealth creation, through economic development and job creation; wealth protection, through climate and disaster resilience; human well-being, through health, education, access to water and energy; and sustainability, by ensuring protection and conservation of natural resources.

"We at the Department of Science and Technology (DOST) have witnessed how communicators helped us become relevant in the public eye especially during the height of COVID-19 pandemic where most of the news are about vaccines, clinical trials, virgin coconut oil (VCO), and testing kits, to name a few. We owe the media the public's increased awareness about DOST, which then helped us leverage our projects with our lawmakers and stakeholders", said Secretary Solidum.

"Making sense of science & technology-related news can be a daunting task, and delivering it to public in layman manner requires keen sense of inquisitiveness and curiosity that only truly dedicated communicators can do."

Secretary Solidum added that engagement with members of the media has always been part of DOST's strategy to inform the public about the agency's efforts in terms of service delivery and improvement of public awareness about the Philippines' science & technology ecosystem in general.

In his presentation to the members of the media, Secretary Solidum discussed DOST's flagship programs and offerings in the field research and development (R&D); industry, energy and emerging technologies; food security and agricultural process; technology intervention among micro-small and medium enterprises (MSMEs), communities, academic organizations, government agencies, research institutions, and local industries; ICT tools and technologies for monitoring of weather and geophysical events; and scholarship opportunities for science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) students at the secondary, undergraduate, and graduate levels.

The OIC also expressed the Department's support in strengthening the bilateral ties with foreign governments, such as the Labour and Welfare Bureau of Hong Kong SAR,

He said, "as we continue to share the same vision, the Department of Social Welfare and Development is open to closely work with your agency and develop a meaningful partnership for the benefit of the sectors that we serve."

OIC Punay also expressed gratitude to the Hong Kong government for their support to Filipino household workers in Hong Kong on their medical and healthcare needs.

Lahat ng naipon resulta ng botohan ay pagsasama-samahin para dalhin sa provincial board of canvassers at muli ay bibilanginat ang kabuuang resulta ng magtatamo ng pinakamaraming boto ang siyang ipoproklamang nanalo, ayon sa Comelec. Bago ang aktuwal na botohan, tetestingin ang VCMs kung gagana nang mahusay at maayos kung magkakaroon ng aberya, sabi ni Elnas.

Bibigyan din ng mga gabay at aaralin ng mapipiling miyembro ng borad of canvassers para sa maayos na paggamit ng mga VCMs at iba pang gamit sa eleksiyon.

Sa nakaraang eleksiyon ng 2022, walang katunggali si Sec. Remulla na kumabig ng botong 202,784.

Dati ring gobernador ng Cavite si Sec. Boying na panganay na anak ng yumaong dating Gov. Juanito 'Johnny' Remulla Sr.
