Tulfo seeks probe on SSS delay in processing of claims

MANILA – Senator Raffy Tulfo has filed a measure seeking to probe the reported delays of the Social Security System (SSS) in processing members' benefits, particularly retirement and death claims.

In Senate Resolution (SR) 544 filed on Tuesday, Tulfo said the delays in processing of claims have caused financial difficulties for retirees and dependents, especially those who are relying on their benefits to survive the day-to-day.

"It is the responsibility of the Senate to ensure that government agencies such as the SSS are efficient in providing services to the public, especially to its members who have contributed to the system," the resolution read. ▶ TULFO SEEKS • 6

SMC airport unit rolls out cash, food assistance for fisherfolk in Cavite towns

San Miguel Corporation (SMC) has rolled out its P500-M 'Handog Tulong Pinansyal Para sa Mangingisda' financial assistance program for fisherfolk families residing in Rosario, Tanza, Naic, and Ternate in Cavite as part of its commitment to managing its social and environmental impacts following strict performance standards set by the International Finance Corporation (IFC) for its New Manila International Airport (NMIA) project.

The initiative, launched by its San Miguel Aerocity Inc. (SMAI), will benefit some 5,000 fisherfolk families, that will each receive a monthly financial assistance of P5,000 until the company's operation in the area is completed by 2024.

Eligible fisherfolk were identified based on both third-party surveys and a selection and validation process by local officials and leaders of local fishermen's groups.

This comes after the company's recent program to provide monthly food supply assistance to over 8,000 families across all four towns, to help them cope with rising food prices. ▶ SMC AIRPORT • 5

Power woes are ending, but water is again a worry

AT a forum earlier this week, the Department of Energy (DoE) delivered some most welcome news that indicates our perennial power shortages during the hot summer months, as well as elevated electricity prices, may be a thing of the past. Unfortunately, this good news was quickly followed by bad news as the Philippine Atmospheric, Geophysical and Astronomical Services Administration (Pagasa) announced that, in addition to the onset of the annual dry season, we can expect El Niño conditions to develop in the next couple of months.

The periodic El Niño, which is a warming of the eastern Pacific Ocean, typically results in drier conditions here in the Philippines, fewer typhoons and less rainfall. Even in a normal year our water supplies are put under great stress and are often insufficient during the hot months, and the El Niño will almost certainly aggravate the problem. With drier weather conditions already beginning and sure to grow worse in the coming months, the government and the water sector should already be hastening contingency plans to prevent potentially dangerous water shortages.

To its credit, the National Water Resources Board (NWRB) is aware of the threat, and acknowledged as much in a briefing on Monday. "For now, we have an ample supply of water, but the Philippine Atmospheric, Geophysical and Astronomical Services Administration has predicted the coming of the El Niño phenomenon, which will result in fewer rains. So, we need to prepare for this so that it will not affect our water supply," said NWRB Executive Director Sevillano David Jr.

However, awareness is not the same thing as action, and David did not provide any further details as to what, exactly, either the NWRB or any of the dozens of other water-related agencies and dozens more water concessionaires and suppliers are doing to prepare for potential water shortages. The public needs to know now while there is still "an ample supply of water," because whatever steps that might be taken by water suppliers and regulators are only half the equation. Safely enduring a potential drought condition, even one that is relatively short-lived, as we might hope will be the case, requires water consumers to take steps as well. Guidance on conserving water and adjusting one's routine is critical, whether for a household or a business.

Of particular concern is the agricultural sector. It is well-known that the country has grappled for years with insufficient irrigation for its farms, which in turn has reduced the agricultural sector's productivity and handicapped efforts to achieve food security. Shortages of some basic food staples in recent months may not be entirely attributable to inadequate irrigation, but that certainly contributed to making the problem worse. If the dry conditions of El Niño are manifested, both rain-fed and irrigated farms will suffer from a lack of water, leading to less production, higher food prices and inflation, and potential shortages of basic goods.

The potential water crisis also highlights the disadvantage Congress has imposed on the country by its yearslong delay in passing the bill that would create a unified Department of Water. Currently, the NWRB is just one of more than 40 agencies across the country responsible for various aspects of water management, which is a highly undesirable situation under any circumstances, and especially at times, such as during an El Niño, when a high degree of coordination is needed to manage challenging conditions.

What is most baffling about Congress's reluctance to act on the Department of Water measure is that outside of Congress itself, there is widespread support for the idea and virtually no dissent. Even existing departments such as the Local Water Utilities Administration (LWUA) that might disappear or be reduced to a single office within the new department are steadfastly supportive of the Department of Water measure, and have consistently urged Congress to pass the bill. It may be too late to affect the upcoming season to do that now, but it will certainly be helpful for future crises, which we already know we can expect.

P5 PROJECT NUMBER 5 Article Number 1

Alam mo ba na ang morphine, isang gamot na pinagbabawal sa maraming lugar, ay pinapayagang gamitin para sa mga taong may malubhang karamdaman? Ang gamot na ito ay isang painkiller na nirereseta para sa mga pasyenteng naaksidente, may cancer na nakararanas ng matinding sakit sa katawan, at mga na-stroke o intake sa puso. Ang paggamit ng morphine ay mahigpit na binabantayan upang maiwasan ang ibang epekto, katulad ng adiksiyon.

Sa parehong paraan, may mga naglalayong maisabatas ang paggamit ng medical cannabis, o marijuana. Ayon sa kanila, panahon na para sa paggamit ng mga benepisyo nito bilang panggamot sa mga karamdamang tulad ng cancer, depression, epilepsy, Parkinson's disease, at iba pa. Iba't-ibang clinical trials ang nagpapatunay na ang maliit na sangkap ng halamang ito na nagdudulot ng "high effect" ay maaaring makontrol upang masigurado na ang kapakipakinabang lamang sa medisina ang magamit.

Sa ngayon, mayroon nang ilang isinusulong na batas para sa paggamit ng medical marijuana na ipinasa mula sa Senado at kongreso, sa opisina ni Senator Robinhood Padilla, Congressman Antonio "Tony" Albano, at Congressman Pantaleon Alvarez. Sa bersyon na ipinasa ni Congressman Alvarez, nakasaad ang pagtanggap sa marijuana sa mga ipinagbabawal na sangkap sa ilalim ng Dangerous Drugs and Substances under the Comprehensive Dangerous Drugs Act of 2002 (RA 9165), habang sa bersyon ni Congressman Albano, nakasaad ang medical use ng cannabis. Ang Padilla Bill ay mas komprehensibo at nagsasaad ng importansya hindi lamang sa medical use ng cannabis, maging sa tamang implementasyon ng paggamit nito.

May ilang tumututol pa rin na maisabatas ang mga nabanggit na bills, sa kadahilanang may kahinaan ang gobyerno ng Pilipinas sa implementasyon ng mga batas. May pangamba na maabuso ang magandang hangarin ng batas na ito at ipakalat upang maggamit sa iba pang bagay. Ngunit, kung maging lamang ang magandang benepisyo nito kompara sa panganib at masigurado ang tamang paggamit, pagpapatunay lamang mas dapat bigyang-katwiran ang panukalang batas.

Upang maging bukas ang isipan ng publiko sa mga benepisyo ng marijuana, kailangan ng mga mahahalagang puntos na makapagpapaintindi sa tamang paggamit nito. Una, ang paggamit lamang ng marijuana para sa medisina ang dapat isulong at hindi ang paggamit nito bilang isang libangan. Pangalawa, ang pagtatanim ng cannabis ay sasailalim sa mahigpit na regulasyon, na piling plantasyon lamang sa bansa ang papayagan. Pangatlo, ang implementasyon para sa maingat na paggamit upang maiwasan ang adiksiyon.

Sa naging panayam mula sa isang segment ng AgriNegosyo kay Scientist/Inventor Richard Nixon Gomez ng Bauertek Corp. noong Pebrero 27, naibigay ang mga importanteng puntos para sa konsiderasyon patungkol sa pagsulong ng medical cannabis.

Kailangang bigyang-diin na ang pagsusulong ng paggamit ng cannabis ay para sa medisina at hindi sa iba pang bagay, lalo na bilang libangan. Kahit pa maisabatas na ang medical cannabis, maging ilegal pa rin ang ibang paggamit nito, tulad ng paghithit nito. Hindi ang paggamit ng cannabis sa pang-araw-araw ang layuning maisulong, kundi para sa kapakanan ng mga taong dumaranas ng malubhang karamdaman, na nasa puntong halos ikamatay na ang sakit na nararamdaman. Pinag-uusapan dito ang paggamit ng medical cannabis, kahalintulad kung paano gamitin ang iba pang kinukonsiderang dangerous drugs upang maibsan ang matinding sakit dulot ng kanilang karamdaman, na ayon sa kanilang pangangailangan.

Kaugnay sa posibilidad na maging laganap ang pagtatanim ng cannabis, katulad sa kanya-kanyang bakuran ay tinuturing na ilegal. Ang mga plantasyon lamang na lisensyado ng gobyerno ang maaaring magtanim at gumawa ng medical cannabis. Walang sinoman ang papayagang magkaroon ng personal na taniman, kahit pa ilang patubo lamang. Ang mahuhuling gagawa nito ay sasailalim pa rin sa kasong possession of dangerous drugs and substances.

Ang pinakaimportante sa lahat, ang cannabis ay daraan sa masusing proseso. Ang THC o ang component ng cannabis na nagdudulot ng "high effect" ay kontrolado, babawasan, o tuluyang aalisin, habang ang CBD o ang component na nagdudulot ng "medical relief" ay gagawin bilang pills, tablet, oil, at iba pa. Kahit pa ito ay naibebenta na sa drugstore, ang pagbili ay hindi basta pwede sa kahit na sino. Ang medical cannabis, tulad ng morphine at iba pang dangerous drug ay maaari lamang ireseta ng lisensyadong doktor. Ang S2 license na doktor ay ang pinapayagan ng PDEA para sa pagkontrol at paggamit nito para sa mga pasyenteng lubhang nangangailangan ng painkillers; tulad ng mga naaksidente, stroke patient, at cancer patient na nakararanas ng matinding sakit. Isipin na lang kung gaano kahirap makakuha ng resita ng antibiotics mula sa doktor, paano pa kung mula sa S2 licensed doctor?

Kaugnayan sa tamang paggamit at pagbili, ang pasyente ay magkakaroon ng QR code bilang katibayan na sila lamang ang pinapayagang bumili ng mga produkto o gamot na gawa sa cannabis sa mga botika o drugstore. Ang code na ito ay daraan sa database ng PDEA, at malalaman din kung sinong S2 license na doktor ang nagreseta ng gamot.

Sa mga susunod pang artikulo, pag-uusapan ang ilan pang mahahalagang bagay patungkol sa tamang paggamit ng cannabis. Maging buksan ang ating isipan sa marami pang posibilidad at benepisyo ng medical cannabis, na noong sinaunang panahon ay ginagamit nang panggamot sa iba't ibang sakit at karamdaman.

5 Dasmarinas villages declared drug-free

FIVE barangays in the City of Dasmarinas are now clear of illegal drugs.

The good news was announced by Mayor Jenny A. Barzaga in a recognition ceremony during the flag raising ceremony at the City Hall grounds on Monday, March 20, where certificates were awarded to Barangay Sampaloc 1, San Agustin III, San Andres II, San Roque, and Sta. Cristina I.

Police Lt. Colonel Juan Oruga, Dasmarinas City police chief cited the full cooperation of the concerned barangay officials for getting rid of users and dealers of illegal substances in their respective villages.

On her social media page, Mayor Barzaga claimed that the said barangays were finally declared drug-free with the cooperation of the Philippine Drug Enforcement Agency (PDEA), Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG), Philippine National Police (PNP), and the Department of Health (DOH).

"Dahil dito, tayo ay nanguna sa pinakamaraming Drug Cleared Barangay sa buong lalawigan ng Cavite," Mayor Barzaga.

She added that upon the recommendation and assessment of the Regional Oversight Committee on Barangay Drug Clearing Program (BDCCP) these five barangays have been declared drug-free.

"Sa kagaganap lamang na final deliberation na isinagawa ng PDEA Regional Office, City of Dasmarinas ang magiging foundation ng Barangay Drug Clearing Program sa buong Region 4-A," Mayor Barzaga shared on her social page.

The Oversight Committee, which is chaired by PDEA, is composed of representatives of DILG, PNP, DOH and local government units (LGUs). This paper learned that under the city's anti-illegal drugs program, the drug-free villages will be monitored to make sure they would sustain the gains of their fight against illegal drugs.

Mayor Barzaga promised that she will not stop the fight against illegal drugs to ensure a safe city for every Dasmarineno.

"Talaga namang hindi tayo titigil sa ating hangarin na wakasan ang iligal at mapaminsalang droga sa ating Siyudad upang mabigyan ng mas ligtas na bayan ang bawat Dasmarineno," Mayor Barzaga concluded. (ELI TAPARAN II)

"Kaya tama lamang, sabi ni Revilla na mabigyan sila ng dagdag na kita sa araw-araw," sabi ni Revilla na sinuportahan ang Senate Bill 2002 (The e Across-the-Board Wage Increase Act of 2023) ni SENate President Migz Zubiri. Mungkahing P150 kada araw ang nais na dagdag na sahod ang nais ni

Zubiri. Nabatid na na marami ring kongresista sa House of Representatives ang nagpapanukalang dagdagan din ang arawang kita ng mga kawani, trabahador at mga arawang o pakyawang manggagawa sa pribadong sektor. Base sa nakaraang tatlong Kongreso, tatlong panukalang batas ang isinama ni Revilla para sa dagdag-sahod ng karaniwang obrero. "I am optimistic," sabi ni Revilla na ang isinusulong na mungkahing batas ni Zubiri ay gugulong sa Senado at ito ay matutugunan ng katulad na panukala sa House. "It is important that we have a living wage. We have been longing for the passage of this measure. Ngayon ay kumpiyansa ako, maisasabatas na ito," ani Revilla. Aniya pa, kailangang-kailangan na ang umento sa sahod ng manggagawa. "With the rising cost of commodities, at sa lumalaking gastos ng bawat pamilyang Pilipino, ngayon na ang panahon na dapat na mabigyan ng P150 wage increase," sabi ni Revilla. /ELI TAPARAN //

On top of this, SMAI has also tapped experts to help implement programs that will minimize its impacts on the environment—including site rehabilitation and restoration—and further embed sustainability solutions to its operation in the area. Meanwhile, SMAI continues to provide livelihood programs for fisherfolk organizations as part of its Social Development Management Program (SDMP). This include garment production and soap-making, scholarships for children of fisherfolk, and construction-based training in cooperation with the Technical Education Skills and Development Authority (TESDA). Olivia Bautista, president of local fisherfolk organization KAMMALIG, said that SMAI has been responding to their concerns, and expressed gratitude to the company particularly in addressing decreased fish catch and the provision of safety equipment for affected fishermen. "Nais po naming magpasalamat sa San Miguel sa mga tulong na aming natanggap at sa mga parating pa na tulong na handa nilang ibigay sa amin. Kahit pa lumiit ang lugar na aming pinapangisdaan at tuloy pa rin kami at nasiguro nila na kami ay ligtas," said Bautista. (We want to thank San Miguel for all the help we have been receiving and will continue to receive, from them. While our fishing areas lessened, we still continue to fish, and they make sure that we are safe.) Apart from the financial and food assistance, Bautista said SMAI, together with its partner and leading global marine engineering firm, Royal Boskalis Westminster N.V., has also provided fishermen with safety equipment, including radar reflectors, life vests, life buoy rings, foam buoys, led lights, and rechargeable batteries. They are also regularly updated as to where dredging activities are being undertaken, to further ensure their safety. "We are well aware of the effects of the ongoing operations of our contractor, Boskalis, in the San Nicolas Shoal, that's why we are taking all necessary measures to mitigate these. We're committed to helping fisherfolk families in the area, and we're very transparent about the project with them. We thank them for their valuable contribution in helping get this priority national project done," said SMC President and CEO Ramon S. Ang. Ang continued: "As we do in all areas where we have operations, we work to establish a good working relationship or partnership with our host communities. For this particular project, we have local teams and offices in the area, as well as a well-established grievance mechanism. We assure them they can come straight to us if they have any concerns at all," Ang added. Ang said that the company is also tapping a third-party organization that will partner with the Bureau of Fisheries and Aquatic Resources (BFAR) to study how to improve fishing yields from the shoal. This is to help bring up the volume of catch from the area, even long after Boskalis' activities are completed. He added that the company also has programs to employ affected communities or their family members at the airport project. "We will continue to work with local government units in Cavite and concerned national government agencies like the DENR, to ensure that our operations will have a positive impact on those affected.

The inquiry, according to Tulfo, should include the reasons for delays in processing claims and the measures being taken by the SSS to address these issues.

He added that it should also cover the possible reforms that can be implemented to improve the efficiency of claiming benefits, such as the use of digital technology and automation of processes.

Under his proposal, the inquiry should also include the need for additional funding and manpower to support the SSS in processing benefit claims efficiently and the possible establishment of a monitoring system that will track the progress of claims.

The findings and recommendations as a result of the said inquiry shall be used as a basis for proposing legislative measures to improve the SSS and to ensure that its members receive their benefits in a timely and efficient manner.

The SSS was created to provide social protection to Filipinos and help them prepare for the future through contributions and benefits. (With a report from Leonel Abasola/PNA)

"Kasangga nila tayo sa pagbibigay-kakayahan sa mga Pilipino na makiisa sa pagbuo ng mapayapa at produktibong pamayanan (They help us in empowering Filipinos to join in building a peaceful and productive community)," he added.

In a separate Facebook post, PAPI shared a list of its newly-elected officers who were sworn in by the President.

Nelson Santos was reelected as the new president of PAPI and was joined by Beck Madeja-Velasquez as the executive vice president, and Alma Ochotorena as the vice president of Luzon, respectively.

Mark John Arrojado was elected secretary,

Conchita Barretto as treasurer, Leonida Cardona as auditor, and Elizah Ann Templado as assistant secretary.

Jaime Vistar, Eduardo Cardona, were elected as members of the Board of Directors for Luzon; Edalyn Acta and Danilo Silvestre were elected as Board of Directors for Visayas; and Anila Anne Acosta and Elpedio Soriano Jr. as members of the Board of Directors for Mindanao.

Santos expressed support for the Marcos administration's "information dissemination" efforts.

"Buti nalang andiyan si Press Secretary [Cheloy Garafil] so naibato ko rin sa kanya yung gusto naming iparating, kung among support namin sa government (Luckily, we have the Press Secretary here so we were able to relay to her the support we can give to the government)," he said in a video uploaded on state-run RTVM.

In October last year, Marcos vowed to support and protect media rights under his administration, citing his willingness to lend an ear and listen to all their concerns.

He also promised to continue articulating his administration's plans to the members of the media.

According to its website, PAPI is the country's largest media fraternity composed of publishers of about 500 community newspapers in the regions and provinces, and a few national publications as regular members.

It is composed of practicing community journalists, both print, broadcast and online, mostly from the regions and provinces, as associate members.

PAPI's affiliate publications have an estimated total print circulation of over 2 million copies every week. (PNA)
